City And County Teachers Agree On 'Ways-Means'

The Calloway County Teachers' Association and the Murray Faculty Club have met in special sessions to discuss ways and means by which the legislative program might be achieved.

The two faculty groups agreed on a number of points which are listed as follows:

1. We wish to express our deep appreciation to the members of the Murray Faculty Club and Tommy Rushing is president of the Calloway County Teachers' Association.

2. We endorse the proposal of our KEA Delegate Assembly and the KEA Board of Directors that there be a day of protest be observed on February 3, 1966, to call the attention of all the citizens of this great Commonwealth to our educational crisis. This day of protest is not called to inconvenience the parents or the students. The purpose of this day is to call attention to the problems we face.

3. We believe that the young people are the most valuable possession we have and that they deserve an education comparable to that of boys and girls in other states of this great nation.

4. In as much as these districts are spending approximately $348.00 per pupil comparable to the national average of $230.00 per pupil, we seriously question the quality of education we are able to offer our students.

5. The proposed Legislative Program of the KEA will offer the students in our districts a better educational program through physical facilities, classroom supplies and better special services such as counseling, remedial reading, and physical education. This program will also provide for improved instruction by retaining competent and dedicated teachers.

6. We endorse the proposal of our KEA Delegate Assembly and the KEA Board of Directors that there be a day of protest be observed on February 3, 1966, to call the attention of all the citizens of this great Commonwealth to our educational crisis. This day of protest is not called to inconvenience the parents or the students. The purpose of this day is to call attention to the problems we face.

7. It is hoped that a solution will be found to the educational problems facing our State. We lend our whole-hearted support to the solution of these problems; but, in the event a solution is not found we endorse the KEA suggestion that the NEA be requested to make a study of the financial structure of education in Kentucky with the view of enacting legislation if this study points out inadequate financing for education in this State.

The Almanac

Today is Thursday, Jan. 27, the 27th day of 1966 with 338 to follow.

The moon is between new and first quarter.

No morning star.

The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn and Mars.

Austrian composer Wolfgang Mozart was born on this day in 1756.

On this day in history:

In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln issued general war order No. 1, instructing Northern Army and Navy forces to move forward not later than Feb. 25.

In 1880, Thomas Edison was granted a patent for an electric incandescent lamp.

In 1945, the 8th U.S. Air Force staged World War II's first all-America air raid on Germany, bombing Wilhelmshaven in broad daylight.

In 1964, Republican Senator Margaret Chase Smith became the first woman to challenge for a presidential nomination in a major party. She lost.

A thought for the day — American President Abraham Lincoln: "Let us have faith that right makes right, and in that faith let us to the end dare to do our duty as we understand it."

Income Tax Questions-Answers

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — What kind of records should I keep for my income tax return that I might have to produce if I'm audited?

A — Keep whatever you need to substantiate the income and deductions on your return. Cancelled checks, bank bills, Forms W-2 and 1099, bank books and similar records will be helpful.

Q — Why is my wife's Social Security number so important on a joint tax return? Most of the income comes from my salary.

A — According to the law, your wife should show her account number on your joint return if she had: (1) separate gross income of $500 or more; or $1200 or more if she was 65 or more before the end of the taxable year; or (2) self-employment income; or (3) separate income, such as wages, dividends, or interest, paid to her which the payer is required to report on a return or statement of information.

If the necessary account numbers are not on a return the matching can not be done, necessitating correspondence with the taxpayer. Failure to include your wife's number will delay the processing of your return and any refund due.

Q — I am retired and have no taxable income. Can I still file a joint return with my wife who is still working?

A — Yes. The fact that either the husband or the wife had no income does not prevent them from filing a joint return.

Q — I paid up the mortgage on my home early last year, was charged a prepayment penalty. Is that deductible?

A — Yes, it is deductible as interest if you itemize your deductions.

Q — When can I start excluding sick pay?

A — There are two rules governing when and how much sick pay may be excluded from income for federal tax purposes.

First, if the amount you receive as sick pay is more than 75 per cent of your regular rate of pay, there is a 30-day waiting period before you are entitled to a sick pay exclusion.

If the amount you receive is 75 per cent or less, the waiting period is 7 days unless you are hospitalized for at least one day during your absence from work. In that event, there is no waiting period. The exclusion is limited to $50.00 per week for the first 30-day period in which you are entitled to the exclusion. After that, it becomes $100.00 per week.

Q — My husband and I have separated. Who is entitled to claim the children as dependents?

A — The children may be claimed as dependents by the person who provides more than half their support during the taxable year. Whether this person is you or your husband depends on the financial arrangements worked out between you.

Q — I have collected $2,000 from my father's estate. Will I have to report this on my return?

A — No. Inheritances are not taxable income.

"VIET CONG JR." — A U.S. Marine escorts a young boy and his grandfather from Laos after the village's capture from the Viet Cong. It's about 25 miles south of the Nam. Now the question is, are these two also Viet Cong?

Veterans NEWS

Q — My son is a Navy veteran and the father of six children. He is unable to acquire insurance due to disability. It is my understanding that the policy he once held while in the Navy is still open to him until May, 1966.

A — He should contact the nearest Veterans Administration Regional Office for information and pamphlets on the new insurance being sold to veterans who have a service-connected disability. This insurance will be sold until May 2, 1966.

Q — I am single and receiving a non-service-connected pension from the VA of $78.75 per month. I would like to know how much I am allowed to earn per year by the Veterans Administration? This pension is under the "old pension law."

A — A veteran without dependents receiving a non-service-connected pension under the old law, may not have an income which exceeds $1400 per year.

Q — I was a private in the Army in WW I. I had a GI insurance policy of $10,000 and $670 was taken from my check every month. I have recently been told that GI's in WW I did not have to pay for their government insurance. Is this correct?

A — Servicemen in WW I had to pay premiums on their government life insurance policies.

Kentucky Does Not Have A "Big Man" But Win Anyway

By DAVID M. MOFFITT
United Press International

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Adolph Rupp, now in his 36th season as head coach of Kentucky, means that these Wildcats lack the size and "killer instinct" needed to be a winner.

But look at their record: the Cats, ranked No. 2 nationally, have a 13-0 mark and have won 15 in a row, counting the last two games of the previous season.

The Wildcats have not only been winning, they've been winning big—with the exception of a double-overtime grind at Georgia 2 1/2 weeks ago.

Kentucky does not have the so-called "big" man at center many consider essential, but the Cats have been getting strong rebounding from 6-5 sophomore Thad Jarack and 6-3 junior Pat Riley.

Another big plus for Kentucky has been its excellence in ball handling, speed, and shooting. Louie Dampier, a 6-foot junior is averaging 21.5 points per game and Riley and Jarack are averaging 20.8 and 16.7 respectively.

The last time the Wildcats reached mid-season undefeated was during the 1953-54 campaign when, led by Cliff Hagan and Frank Ramsey, they posted a 25-0 mark and rebounded their back on the NCAA for having been placed on probation the previous season.

Kentucky's next game is at home Saturday against the Auburn Tigers. Auburn has a fine 11-4 record but saw its Southeastern Conference hopes shattered in an 86-64 loss to Florida Monday.

Dear Abby . . .

It's A Strong Odor!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been caught in something. Then it would bleed. But it never really hurt me or anything like that. Well, I was at a neighbor's one afternoon and her mother was visiting her. She noticed the wart on my finger and told me if I wanted to get rid of it I should have it removed. I was a bit nervous, but she said it was a simple procedure. She said she had had it removed and it was a relief. I was a bit nervous, but she said it was a simple procedure. She said she had had it removed and it was a relief.

I say if she really loved me she wouldn't care how I smelled. She says if I really loved HER I wouldn't come near her smelling like that. A big fight follows, and even after I clean up I wouldn't go near her if she got on her knees and begged me to.

So it's been five days and I haven't gone near her. Am I wrong, or is she?

BIG JOE
DEAR JOE: You're wrong. She loves you, but tobacco breath and perspiration are enough to wither any passion flower. So in the future, when you come home from work, head straight for the shower. (And a little men's deodorant and cologne wouldn't hurt, either.) Then take her in your arms and see what kind of welcome you get.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 18 years to a wonderful woman. We have no children at home. I own my own business, and give my wife $100 weekly for her own personal use while I pay all the bills. Here is the problem: Although we live in a 15-room house with nine bedrooms, my wife allows her mother, who is in excellent health, to be in a "nest home." I have asked my wife many times to bring her mother here to live with us. Her only excuse is that she will "upset" the "smooth running of our home." This is a laugh. There is nothing to do here, and my wife has help. If it were MY mother, I would insist that she live with us. But because it is my wife's mother I feel my wife should make the offer. She reads your column. Perhaps you can awaken her to her responsibility.

DEAR BEWILDERED: Consider the mother: She will probably be much happier at the rest home than living with a daughter who doesn't really want her.

DEAR ABBY: For years I had a wart on my finger. It didn't bother me much except when I'd

STORM TIDE

WHAT HAS HAPPENED

There was a succession of "sun bright" days, when the sun was just enough to show the foam of the whitecaps, and to sing a haunting song in the distance. The Bedford Lass stood down the Atlantic and into the Gulf Stream.

The sea of human emotions was still a blank and untried expanse, just the way it was, no care no uncharted waters. Life aboard began to fall into a steady and rhythmic routine: watch relieving watch, and a sharp lookout was now being kept for whales.

Not only sighted a whale. Scam Bailey shortened sail a dozen times and the boats lowered, he went in the first starboard boat himself, and put the crew through its paces, having them step the mast and sail within striking distance of an imaginary sperm whale, and then—douse sail and back—when the imaginary iron had been planted. The boat went through this drill again and again, as if their very lives depended on the proficiency in which they executed it. And, in a very real sense, that was true.

On November 14th, the Bedford Lass spoke the whaler Huron Wheeler, a hundred and thirty-six days out of San Francisco bound for New Bedford with a fair take of oil and bone. She wiped the same greasy luck to the Bedford Lass, and said she had glimpsed with the new ship Albatross, Whitcomb, Arcturion, and Crescent—at the Cape Verde Islands only a few days before.

"Regular post," smiled the captain of the Bedford Lass. "They ain't had luck so far. And whale-huntin's not what it used to be."

Maybe that depended upon where you hunted. Scam Bailey himself, handsome Andy Shinn, well ahead of the Bedford Lass, and most likely had the same tale about hunting whales in the Beaufort Sea.

Scam ordered Life Potter to crowd on all the sail the ship could carry.

The Bedford Lass came up to the wind, and fell off, and went on the other tack as her canvas stacked and filled. Any sober seaman would have heeded the warning of one name for the ship and the other for himself.

But John Waterhouse was not exactly sober. Sometime during the midwatch, P. Vinegar had expertly picked the look on the chest of medicinal spirits. He needed an accomplice in this, someone to keep a sharp lookout along the passageway, and he had chosen Waterhouse. Then the two repaired topside.

shovel and clean the driveway while the snow is light and fluffy.

As some may know, we do not think much of Medicare, Socialized Medicine, compulsory this and compulsory that.

We came across the following little gem which upholds our contentions, to some degree at least.

A man feeling the need of medical care went to the medical building for that purpose, and upon entering the front door, found himself faced with a battery of doors each marked with the name of an ailment such as appendicitis, heart, cancer, etc.

He felt sure his trouble could be diagnosed as appendicitis so he entered the door so marked. Upon entering, he found himself faced with two more doors, one marked Male and the other Female. Of course, he entered the door marked Male and found himself in a corridor where there were two doors, one marked Protestant and one marked Catholic. Since he was a Protestant, he entered that door and found himself facing two more doors, one marked White and the other Colored. He entered the "White" door and again was faced with two more doors marked Taxpayer and non-Taxpayer. He still owned an equity in his house, so he went through the door marked Taxpayer and found himself confronted with still two more doors marked Married and Single.

He had a wife at home, so he entered the proper door and once more there were two doors, one marked Republican and the other Democrat. He was a Republican, so he entered that door and fell nine floors to the ALLEY.
